Carter TV address set tonight

'Energy sky falling'

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Carter is preparing to warn the American people that "the sky is falling" as far as energy is concerned and that there must be sacrifices now to hold off abrupt and painful shortages in the future.

Carter is beginning an intensive campaign to win public acceptance of his national energy plan, which he will outline tonight in his second "fireside chat."

Following recess

Ohio Assembly sets energy policy work

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The legislature's energy policy is expected to take shape this week in committee rooms and on the floor of the Ohio House, beginning with a vote Tuesday on a bill to encourage use of solar heating systems.

"Ohio's energy policy should include incentives to promote solar energy development and use," House Speaker Vernal G. Riffe Jr. D-89 New Boston, said in endorsing legislation sponsored by Rep. Sherrod Brown, D-61 Mansfield.

Also set for a roll call vote in the House Tuesday is a bill that would permit school districts to adjust their calendar so vacations could be held during cold weather months.

State senators return tonight from the legislature's 11-day Easter break, but no substantive business is planned on the floor of the upper chamber.

Majority Democrats will take the wraps off their version of Gov. James A. Rhodes' $14.5 billion budget on Tuesday or Wednesday. House Finance Chairman Myrl H. Shoemaker, D-88 Bourneville, would not specify on which

The energy policy will be revealed in depth on Wednesday when Carter addresses a joint session of Congress.

The Oval Office address has been dubbed by some White House officials as Carter's "the sky is falling speech." It will begin a week largely devoted to persuading the public and Congress that stringent mandatory measures are needed to meet the nation's energy needs.

One White House official familiar with the prepared address said Carter "will tell them we must conserve now to avoid real hardships later on."

Carter's address will be broadcast by all three commercial television networks at 8 p.m. EST.

The official said Carter will describe in straightforward terms the history of the energy crisis worldwide back to the 1930s, then will ask in advance for support of the tough energy package to be unveiled before Congress on Wednesday night.

Tonight, Carter is expected to compare the gravity of the energy problem to America's part in World War II, with a personal appeal to national unity and sacrifice designed "to avoid another Pearl Harbor," the White House official said.

The President remained in Washington over the weekend to put final touches on the energy package. Aides to White House energy adviser James Schlesinger said final decisions on parts of the program were still being made Sunday afternoon.

The proposal has not yet been made public officially, but its major elements were one of Washington's worst kept secrets and were widely reported last week.

One source said over the weekend that an additional federal gasoline tax, which could rise to 50 cents a gallon by the mid 1980s, will be included in the plan. The federal gasoline tax now is four cents per gallon.

The source said there are other potentially controversial items, which remain unknown outside a small circle of presidential energy advisers. He declined to reveal them.

Carter will make three separate television appearances during the week to talk about energy problems and his proposals, which he has acknowledged will cost him 15 to 20 points in public opinion approval polls.

Besides tonight's speech and the address to Congress, the President also has scheduled a news conference Friday morning to discuss energy.

In addition to the gasoline tax, Carter's program also is expected to offer tax incentives for homeowners to insulate their houses; require utility companies to convert to coal; allow domestic oil prices to rise to the world price level set by the 13 Organization of Petroleum Exporting Countries.

Most solar systems, however, must be supplemented in homes by other power sources, usually electric, to operate appliances.

President seeking dam fight loopholes

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Carter is working to extricate himself from a political tangle of his own making, while keeping his promise to curb the government's beaver-like ambitions to dam the nation's rivers and flood its flatlands.

Carter is recommending a halt in 1978 funding for 15 water projects, cuts in funding for five more, continued review for two projects and full funding for eight. His recommendations have been disclosed by sources in Congress, state governments and environmental groups.

The President is announcing the recommendations today.

Before the announcement, information about his decisions showed they could save taxpayers an estimated $120 million in fiscal 1978, which begins Oct. 1. About $109 million would come from halts in funding. The remainder would be from the partial cuts.

Congress has final say over how much money each project gets.

Carter promised during his campaign to halt unnecessary dam building by the Army Corps of Engineers and to support cutbacks in water projects under such agencies as the Bureau of Reclamation.

His first move to redeem that promise was to order a review of 340 water projects for economic feasibility and environmental safety. Most are the pet projects of members of Congress who are not adverse to government spending in their home districts.

On Feb. 19, administration sources said Carter would delete funds for 18 of the projects from the 1978 budget. Members of the House and Senate, some of whom had not been told in advance, expressed anger. On Feb. 20, Carter announced his request and added a project in his home state of Georgia, the Richard B. Russell Dam, to the list.

Carter defended the deletions, saying the projects would be reviewed again before a final decision and that cutting projects was needed to keep his promise to balance the budget by 1981. Carter economists estimate the budget deficit next year will be some $55.2 billion.

Congress awaits energy plans

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress is returning to Washington to hear President Carter's proposals for a broad new energy program and to decide how to handle the remnants of the administration's economic stimulus package.

Before leaving for a 10-day Easter recess, the Senate had scheduled the big Carter tax bill for immediate attention as it returns today. The House already passed a version that included Carter's plan to send $50 rebates to most Americans in a one-shot economic stimulation effort.

But Carter has given up on the $50 payments and Senate leaders of the bill now seem certain to put off action while they decide whether to consider the measure at all. They could decide to salvage portions of Carter's plan by attaching them to other measures.

Republicans, meanwhile, were repeating their demands for a permanent tax cut in place of the one-time rebates and other payments, even though Carter said at a news conference Friday he would veto any legislation containing such provisions.

With the removal of the immediate prospect of a long debate over the $50 payments, Congress turned its attention to Carter's proposals for a national energy program. The President is to present them formally at a joint House and Senate session Wednesday, but is to outline them to the country in a broadcast talk tonight.

It already is generally known that the energy package combines mandatory conservation measures, such as an increase in the gasoline tax of as much as 50 cents a gallon over a period of several years. The package also is expected to include a tax of up to $2,500 on new gas-guzzling cars, along with incentives to both individuals and businesses to conserve fuel.

Among features of the Carter tax bill considered certain to be retained in one way or another are continuations of tax reductions now in effect, but due to expire.

The bill would extend through 1978 a general tax credit that allows a taxpayer to take off his bill $35 for himself and each of his dependents, or alternatively to take a 2 per cent credit, up to $180, on his income. Also to be extended is an earned income credit up to $400, benefitting low-income working families. A temporary cut in the tax on the first $50,000 annual income of corporations also is likely to survive.

Another provision of the bill likely to be saved is one that would simplify tax forms and give an estimated tax cut to 46 million couples, while raising taxes for about two million single persons.

This provision, applying only to those who do not itemize their deductions, would provide new flat standard deductions of $2,200 for single persons and $3,200 for couples filing jointly.

FINISHING TOUCHES — David Hopkins, commercial artist, who was hired by BancOhio-First National Bank to paint murals on the walls at Fayette County Memorial Hospital, puts the finishing touches on the mural in the emergency room. This painting, which seems to be a favorite of hospital personnel, depicts a Blue Lion fan discussing the details of his broken leg with his sports rival, a Miami Trace Panther fan.

Columbus artist completes murals

Popular cartoon characters adorn local hospital walls

By CINDI PEARCE
Record-Herald Staff Writer

Yogi Bear, Mickey Mouse, Pinocchio, Tony the Tiger and Bambi are just a few of the cartoon characters who have invaded the halls of Fayette County Memorial Hospital.

David Hopkins, a Columbus free lance artist who has virtually painted his way across the country by completing murals in 40 hospitals, was recently employed by BancOhio-First National Bank in Washington C.H. to spice up the rather placid hospital walls. And, that he did.

An artist, who works primarily in acrylics and prefers vibrant, but unoffensive, colors, Hopkins worked as a commercial artist for 10 years, but got sidetracked when a well-meaning friend, whom Hopkins still jokingly refers to as a "jerk", persuaded him to enter the insurance field. As Hopkins soon learned, artists are definitely out of their element in an insurance office.

"I hated being in the insurance business. I would walk down the street and people would cross to the other side, so they wouldn't have to talk to me," Hopkins mused. But, he's content now that he's back in the aesthetic arena.

Three years ago he was just being a "nice guy" when he agreed to paint a mural at Children's Hospital in Columbus. That was just the beginning of what has turned into a full-time, satisfying, and undoubtedly, lucrative profession.

Hopkins, who spent one week at Fayette County Memorial Hospital, is convinced his murals are "fantastic therapy" for the children in the hospital. "When kids are in the hospital they're scared to death; apprehensive. They don't know what's going to happen to them. The murals give them something to talk about other than their afflictions."

Once, someone told Hopkins that children, in general, are afraid of elevators. So, in an attempt to remedy this phobia, Hopkins painted a mammoth mural in an elevator. It worked, and the adults, who rode in the elevator, enjoyed the painting as much as the kids did. Hopkins said, "I've actually seen doctors look at my murals and then begin giggling."

The children not only get to view the murals of familiar cartoon characters, but Hopkins also allows them to help in the actual painting of the wall pictures.

Commissioned by BancOhio-First National Bank in Washington C.H. to paint eight murals at the hospital, Hopkins ended up doing a total of 11 "just because they're nice people around here". The colorful paintings can be found in the pediatrics ward, nursery and the emergency room of Fayette County Memorial Hospital.

One physician once told Hopkins he had a patient who wasn't too impressed with Hopkins' murals, but then the doctor added, the patient was only eight weeks old. Nevertheless, the nurses who work in the nursery at Fayette County Memorial Hospital swear the newborn babies can see the murals.

One time, as a special favor, Hopkins

Crowded national parks predicted

By LOUISE COOK
Associated Press Writer

The National Park System expects crowds this year to top the record bicentennial turnout. It's time to plan if you expect to be among the millions visiting federal sites this summer.

Ninety-nine areas in the national park system, including 37 national parks, have campgrounds. In all, there are 293 sites in the system, such as monuments, memorials, historic houses and battlefields, according to spokesman Duncan Morrow.

Morrow said there were 238.8 million visits to the national park system in 1975 and 267.8 million in 1976. The service expects about 280 million visits this year.

The most popular period at national parks is from mid-June to Labor Day, Morrow said. He said the Park Service more than doubles its staff during the busy months, adding 10,000 employees to the permanent staff of 8,000.

The familiar parks such as Yosemite, Yellowstone and Grand Canyon will be crowded as usual, Morrow said, but many lesser-known facilities offer equal attractions with more elbow room.

Great Smoky Mountains National Park in North Carolina and Tennessee, for example, gets more than 10 million visits a year. Eighty miles away, the Cumberland Gap National Historic Park, which includes a section of wilderness trail cut by Daniel Boone, draws only half a million visits.

Visiting national parks involves two fees — one for entrance, another for camping.

Entrance fees per carload of visitors range from nothing at some spots to $3 at Yosemite and Carlsbad Caverns. If you arrive by other means, such as by bicycle or bus, the charge is 50 cents per person.

Camping fees also start at zero.

although Morrow warned: "If you're paying nothing, you're getting just about what you're paying for, a space."

Most camping fees range from $1 to $4 a day per campsite, depending on such items as restrooms, electrical connections, water and security forces.

There are ways to cut costs, particularly if you plan to visit more than one park or site in a year.

The Golden Eagle Passport costs $10 and is good for admission to all national park system areas during the calendar year in which the pass is issued. One passport admits a carload of people to drive-in attractions such as parks or a family to walk-in sites such as historic houses. Rabin accompanied his wife, Leah, to the Tel Aviv district court for her trial Sunday but kissed her and left before the hearing started.

"I am guilty," the 49-year-old woman told Judge Dov Levine in answer to the charges of violating Israeli currency laws.

The maximum penalty was three years in jail and a fine of $63,000, but Judge Levine said he was letting Mrs. Rabin off with a fine because of her guilty plea and her "dizzying fall."

Mrs. Rabin's attorney, Shimon Alexandroni, told the court: "She is very sorry about her negligence and mistake."

"I don't have anything to add," Mrs. Rabin told the court after the brief presentations by the prosecution and the defense.

The Rabins opened the accounts while he was ambassador to the United States and apparently maintained them after they returned to Israel in 1973 so she could continue to buy clothes and the like in America. Israeli law required that the accounts be closed and the money transferred to Israel within six months.

Carter may need artillery soon

WASHINGTON (AP) — Jimmy Carter came to town with a reputation as the fastest gun in the South in dealing with ornery legislators.

So far, he's kept his shooting iron in its holster, but he'll probably be needing it after Wednesday. That may explain why the President is picking his spots carefully, even at the price of one tax proposal, one nomination and one set of compromises. It is a course that has avoided major tests of strength with Congress during the first three months of Carter's administration.

He apparently is determined to avoid spending political ammunition before he reaches issues he deems crucial. One is at hand in the energy program he will present to a joint session of Congress on Wednesday night.

That one will take some heavy persuasion, with the country and with Congress.

Carter has twice come to the brink of confrontation with the Senate. Each time, he stopped short of a collision.

It happened in the case of Theodore Sorensen, who withdrew as Carter's nominee to become director of the Central Intelligence Agency in the face of mounting Senate opposition.

And it happened again when he dropped his $50 income tax rebate, saying that an improved economic picture made it unnecessary.

The President almost certainly could have won passage of the rebate. But, as he said, it would have taken a bruising fight.

Now Carter is prepared to compromise on the future of 30 dam and other water projects the administration had listed for possible elimination from the budget.

He still wants to do away with 15 of them and that will stir trouble with their sponsors. But Carter has endorsed in whole or in part 13 of the projects. He recommended reduction of five of them and left open the prospect that two more may get administration approval after further study.

Carter came to the White House saying that he would, when necessary, use the same tactics he used as governor of Georgia, and go to the voters if Congress blocked him on worthwhile programs.

He did that, with the Georgia legislature, and it worked. One associate said that Carter in those days considered it a compromise if he yielded 5 or 10 per cent of what he had proposed.

Dismissal of Hearst case sought

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Patricia Hearst's attorneys are asking for state charges of kidnaping, robbery and assault to be dropped in an effort to save the convicted bank robber from going to trial May 18.

The lawyers are due in Superior Court today for a pre-trial hearing. They say Miss Hearst's indictment on the charges is invalid because grand jurors were not specifically told that she had been kidnaped.

The 23-year-old defendant is not expected to attend. She is free on $1.25 million bail pending resolution of her appeal from her March 20, 1976, bank robbery conviction in San Francisco federal court.

Miss Hearst's abduction by the Symbionese Liberation Army on Feb. 4, 1974, was among the most widely reported events of the decade.

Annual inspection held at local Masonic lodge

The annual inspection of Fayette Masonic Lodge No. 107, always one of the highlights of the year, was held at the Masonic Temple on S. Main Street Saturday night with approximately 75 members and visitors in attendance.

Billy J. Jones of Xenia, district deputy grand master of the 8th Masonic District, representing Charles S. Ward, grand master of all Masons in Ohio, was the inspecting officer.

The second, or Fellowcraft Degree, was conferred on one candidate by the officers of Fayette Lodge, who are Harvey Heironimus, worshipful master; Howard Miller, senior warden; John E. Lyons, junior warden; Joe Shoemaker treasurer; Russell Gielbhouse, secretary; Edward Rose, senior deacon; Everette Vance, junior deacon; Alford Carr, chaplain; Harold Ross, senior steward; Gary Ivers, junior steward, and Alfred Browne, tyler. David Baugh furnished organ music for the initiatory work.

The inspecting officer complimented the officers on their sincerity and proficiency in exemplifying the degree, observed that the records and finances of the lodge were in order and that the lodge was operating under the rules and regulations of the Grand Lodge of Ohio to which all subordinate lodges must adhere. He said he would so state in his report to the grand master and give Fayette Lodge a good rating.

Blasts rips Chattanooga

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn. (AP) — An explosion ripped through a downtown building early today, touching off a three-alarm fire and knocking out windows in a two-block area, police said.

No deaths or injuries were reported, but police said a bystander seen before the blast had not been found.

Police blocked off a four-block area against looters and spectators as authorities began to pick through the rubble to determine the cause of the explosion.

The fire started by the explosion at the Siskins Building at Main and Market streets was brought under control in less than two hours. The blast was heard and felt within a seven-to-eight-mile radius, police said.

Police said damage would run more than $1 million.

Destructive 'acid rain'

Popular concern about so-called "acid rain" in the Northeast was aroused a couple of years ago by scientists' warnings, but has since subsided. Concern is given new impetus by reports of what is happening in central New York in the wake of a tough winter.

This spring rains came, and when they came they brought down acid from the clouds. Acid strong enough, scientists find, to kill fish and other forms of life in the area's mountain lakes. Some plant life is endangered, too. Wildlife management officials and Cornell University researchers are rightly alarmed at the results of studies conducted over the past several years.

These results are summed up by Robert A. Jones in a Los Angeles Times story on the subject: "More than half the mountain lakes over

2,000 feet in New York state are now highly acidic, and of those, 90 per cent are devoid of fish life. Forty years ago, only 4 per cent were devoid of fish life."

Researchers fear that the consequences of acid rain may in time be much worse than even these statistics indicate. According to Dr. F. Harvey Pough of Cornell, "What we are seeing - the fish dying, and so on - are only the most obvious symptoms." He and his colleagues believe, as he puts it, that "we will find that the total effects are widespread and very costly in terms of the national environment."

Studies both here and in Scandinavia have shown that the acid comes mainly from factory pollutants poured into the air. The Northeast is especially vulnerable - in large part because it is downwind from most other parts of the country. It is thought, however, that some other areas will feel the effects in time unless something can be done to alleviate the problem.

What that "something" might be is a difficult question. There are temporary palliatives, such as treating acidic lakes with large quantities of neutralizing limestone. This does not get at the real problem, which is how to get rid of acid agents in factory emissions.

That would be a multi-billion-dollar undertaking. At present that seems excessive. The day may come, though, when a cause of environmental harm which Dr. Pough regards as potentially "very serious" may get bad enough to demand strong corrective measures.

WASHINGTON CALLING....By Marquis Childs

Energizers vs. conservationists

WASHINGTON — The energizers versus the environmentalists, that is the lineup today and nowhere is it sharper than in the empire of the West where a record drought casts a long shadow over the future.

Your Horoscope

By FRANCES DRAKE

What kind of day will tomorrow be? To find out what the stars say, read the forecast given for your birth sign.

TUESDAY, APRIL 19

ARIES

(March 21 to April 20)

A day for action! Be sure, however, that your energies are directed into constructive channels. Don't wait until errors are committed before you get better organized.

VIRGO

(Aug. 24 to Sept. 23)

Balance earnings against expenditures. Also, as with Leo, study where tactics, moves should be altered, stepped up or slowed down. A day for thoughtful appraisal.

LIBRA

(Sept. 24 to Oct. 23)

Don't abandon a project just because someone else may not be enthusiastic about it, but listen to their ideas anyway. There COULD be some angles you have overlooked.

SCORPIO

(Oct. 24 to Nov. 22)

Deals with others may have their ups and downs: YOU remain serene and tolerant. Where things seem to be in a slump, use your imagination to inject new vigor.

SAGITTARIUS

(Nov. 23 to Dec. 21)

Curb a tendency to be overly critical. Don't look for flaws in every matter that comes up. Emphasize tolerance and steadiness.

CAPRICORN

(Dec. 22 to Jan. 20)

Familiar matters favored rather than new enterprises. You may encounter tense feelings in some areas. Keep your balance and look at the bright side of things.

AQUARIUS

(Jan. 21 to Feb. 19)

Put inferences, conceded facts and other material together and scrutinize well; then you will be surer when you make decisions and move ahead.

PISCES

(Feb. 20 to March 20)

This will be a day calling for good judgment. Do not let unexpected situations ruffle you and do not let yourself be pushed into erroneous paths by the prodding of others.

YOU BORN TODAY are endowed with great versatility and the verve to lead a full, interesting, action-filled life. You are suited to either the business world or the arts, depending on your inclinations. No matter what you undertake, however, you are highly original in your methods and sometimes confound others with your unpredictability. Curb tendencies toward impulsiveness, temper tantrums and lack of balance through over emotionalism. Try to cultivate poise and more tolerance for your fellowmen. Fields especially suited to your talents: writing, painting, business management, the law, statesmanship, science and the theater.

The water shortage is only the beginning. The belief is growing that by next summer electricity will be in short supply and the West will see widespread brownouts.

The environmentalists are to blame, according to the oil men. They have blocked every effort at offshore drilling since the disastrous oil spill at Santa Barbara several years ago. Resulting from a break in an offshore drilling operation, the spill caused anger and indignation and not among professional environmentalists alone. If took weeks of hard work to clean up Santa Barbara's beautiful beaches.

Unless offshore drilling can be started at once, there will be a dangerous energy gap, with electrical plants forced to cut back sharply. Ever-increasing power is required to pump water from wells with the water table following a kind of vicious cycle making for the worst of an already bad situation.

Out of some 400 federal judges in the United States, the environmentalists chose the court of Judge William H. Orrick Jr. to file a suit requiring the president and the director of the Environmental Protection Agency to file forthwith exact plans, with locations, for the disposal of solid waste. This was in accord with a tough law passed by Congress under environmentalist pressure.

With the growth of the cities, solid waste is becoming a mountain that in region after region baffles the best efforts of civic authorities. New York City has been dumping its waste out at sea, a comparatively short distance, until a protest from New Jersey that it was surfacing to the detriment of New Jersey beaches.

A complex and unresolved problem is the disposal of nuclear waste with its active life of hundreds of years. Knowledgeable environmentalists armed with statistics and a thorough reading of the law have intervened in case after case where a nuclear plant was to be built, waning of the perils in a nuclear economy.

The paradox is that in California two years ago a referendum calling for the prohibition of any more nuclear power plants was defeated by a sizeable majority. The power companies had directed a costly propaganda attack on the referendum. Another factor in the development of nuclear power is finding capital to build these increasingly costly engines.

At times you have the impression that this nation, with its once fabulous riches in every field, is reaching or may already have reached a peak from which a retreat must come.

We are still on a grand joyride and the joyriders are oblivious to what tomorrow may bring.

On a recent weekend the curving mountain highway between San Francisco and Stinson Beach was almost solid with cars. Where were they going? To the beaches. They were escaping from the city to the beauty of a wild, rock-strewn coast still unspoiled.

Certain enclaves are preserved as showpieces of what the continent once was. On the Audubon Society's splendid preserve, the great blue herons with a wingspread of five feet are nesting in the tops of the redwood trees. On a mountain trail is an overlook with telescopes that give a closeup of this marvelous phenomenon. Later will come the white egrets, which until a short time ago were a vanishing species.

President Carter and his energy chief, James Schlesinger, have hinted at how unhappy most Americans will be when they feel the full impact of the Administration's energy program. Gasoline will increase in price and the gas guzzler will go with a tax scaled to eliminate cars getting only 11 or 12 miles to the gallon.

Just as with the effort to arrive at an agreement on nuclear weapons with the Soviet Union, the president has talked too much and said too little. It is extraordinary that he could not have brought home to Americans the true nature of the joyride.

The source of up to 50 per cent of the gasoline in those cars pouring over the mountains was from abroad, most of it from the oil-producing Arab states. This country is setting an example that makes conservation a joke. Whether the forthcoming energy program is too little and too late, or whether it can make a substantial difference despite the picking and pulling of Congress is a large question.

City children more prone to coronary

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Suburban children show more signs of coronary-prone behavior than do rural children because of a lifestyle that stresses success but offers few guidelines for achieving it, a researcher says.

Ingrid Waldron, a biologist at the University of Pennsylvania, found that suburban children are more competitive than their rural counterparts after testing 174 Pennsylvania and New Jersey children ranging in age from 10 to 18.

The tests, given in rural and suburban schools, were adapted from those given to adults to spot behavior which typically leads to death from heart attack and heart disease.

"The primary difference between the rural and suburban samples was a slower pace of life in the rural setting," Ms. Waldron said in findings released Friday.

"These patterns reflect the working class character of the rural community, and the type of more limited and well-defined goals held by working class parents for their children," she said.

In the rural community, "expected adult roles of worker and wife are relatively easy to attain," she said.

Suburban children, on the other hand, seem to have acquired "the open-ended goals characteristic of their middle class parents," Ms. Waldron reported.

The children were asked questions such as: "When you play games with little kids, do you purposely let them win?"

Suburban children were more likely to respond "no, never," and rural children "yes," the study showed. The "no, never" response was considered an indication of coronary-prone behavior.

Of the suburban children tested, 91 per cent said they would characterize themselves as "trying hard" rather than "easy going," Ms. Waldron said.

Circle 4 announces sale

Mrs. Millard H. Weidinger and Mrs. Loren D. Hynes were hostesses for a luncheon meeting of Circle 4 of the United Methodist Women of Grace United Methodist Church at Staunton Church Fellowship Hall on Wednesday.

The members and guests were seated at two tables centered with bouquets of tulips and daffodils and violets for the serving of a delicious springtime luncheon, each place was marked with a flower bulb and biblical booklet.

Mrs. Heber Deer, president, gave the invocation. It was with regret that Mrs. Hynes was unable to be present due to the fact she is at her winter home in Florida. Mrs. Deer opened the meeting and presented Mrs. Jean S. Nisley, who gave the devotions from the Book of Proverbs and Luke. Mrs. Robert I. Case, secretary, had the roll call and read the minutes. It was determined 28 calls were made to shut-ins and funeral homes. Mrs. Maurice L. Sollars, treasurer, made her report.

Mrs. Nisley then told of Church Day activities and plans, especially emphasizing the Annual Spring Rummage Sale to be held at the Church, April 29-30. Circle 4 is furnishing three helpers. She told the Least Coin Collection was to be sent to the Circle Treasurer of the Church in May.

Mrs. Nisley gave the program by reading "In Search of Spring"; "Bird Song"; "The Living Message"; "April Days"; "God's Favorite Time"; and "Giving".

The may meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Maurice L. Sollars, and the members will present the program. Members present were Mrs. Walter L.

Garden Club hostess at 'opening meeting'

An "open meeting" was held by the Washington Garden Club, when members met at the VFW Hall, W. Elm St., recently. A brief business meeting took place when the forthcoming events of the spring and summer were announced. The spring regional meeting will be held April 21 in the Franklin Methodist Church Arbor Day planting of a purple leaf plum will be held at Miami Trace High School April 22 at 10 a.m.; Nurses' day breakfast table flowers will be prepared at 1 p.m. May 2, at Mrs. Olive Brookover's home; and the club purchased four bird conservation stamps.

A film, "Nature's Half Acre" was presented by Ralph (Skip) Mitchell. This was a very interesting film of wildlife, which featured birds and their nesting, feeding of fledglings, their habitat, also caterpillars from their beginning to the moth stage, feedings of foliage, etc. Also spider, bees, lizards and other insects which all have a purpose of destroying or protecting nature as it should be. Members of the Fayette, Town and Country, and the Posy garden clubs attended the open meeting.

A bird watch will be featured at the next meeting at Buzzards Roost near Chillicothe, in Ross County. Cory's wildflower gardens will be visited in the afternoon.

Nixon called sad, tragic

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Richard Nixon is described as a brooding Napoleon in exile and "sad, tragic" figure by two women who worked on the David Frost television interviews with the former president.

"I didn't know what I was going to feel for the man after Watergate. But my heart went out to his loneliness," said Sandy Blake. "He is now a prisoner in his own home. He is surrounded by security. Every single item on the set had to be cleared with him before it was used."

She and Arline Genis, both interior designers, worked to create what they call a "homely ambience" for the interviews. Frost paid a reported $1 million to get Nixon on video tape for a four segment presentation beginning May 4.

The interviews had to be moved from Nixon's San Clemente compound to a home in nearby Laguna Beach after it was learned Coast Guard radar near San Clemente would interfere with taping.

"The biggest technical problem we had were the bookcases," said Ms. Genis.

Ousted official in court setback

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Gregory J. Stebbins, ousted as chairman of the Ohio Industrial Commission last year, had another setback in federal court Wednesday in an attempt to regain his job.

U.S. District Court Judge Robert Duncan rejected counterclaims in a lawsuit Stebbins filed against Gov. James A. Rhodes.

Duncan said the counterclaims involved the same dispute as one last December. That's when a three-judge federal panel found Stebbins had been accorded due process during Ohio Senate hearings in which his dismissal was approved.

Belgium's premier resigns after vote

BRUSSELS, Belgium (AP) — Premier Leo Tindemans resigned today after a general election in which his Social Christian party again ran first and won six more seats in Parliament but failed to win a majority.

Tindemans was expected to form a new coalition government. He indicated he would ask the opposition Socialists, who ran second, to join the government.

The premier's resignation, delivered to King Baudouin, was customary after an election. The king accepted it and asked him to remain in office as caretaker premier until a new government is formed.

Tindemans said he hoped "a government of national union could be set up." Observers believed this was the prelude to an overture to the Socialists. There was no immediate indication from the Socialists, who campaigned against the premier's austerity program.

The Interior Ministry said returns from 3.6 million of more than 6 million votes cast Sunday indicated the 212-member House of Representatives would include 78 Social Christians, a gain of six; 61 Socialists, a gain of two; 33 Liberals (no change); 21 Flemish Volksunie (People's Union) members, a loss of one; nine from the Democratic Front of French Speakers (no change); six members of the Rassemblement Walloon, a loss of seven, and four Communists (no change).

The government said the Social Christians had 1.5 million votes, the Socialists 944,059 and the Flemish party 479,131.

Also at stake were 106 seats in the Senate and 720 seats on provincial councils.

Vehicle demolished in mishap

B'burg driver injured after auto hits trees

A 38-year-old Bloomingburg man is listed in "fair" condition in Fayette County Memorial Hospital after his station wagon left Ohio 38 and struck two trees early Sunday morning.

James R. Hoover suffered laceration in the single-car mishap which demolished his vehicle. According to the Fayette County Sheriff's Department, Hoover was driving south on Ohio 38 near Hickory Lane at 1:20 a.m. when he lost control of the station wagon. It went left of center, crossed a ditch and skidded broadside into the trees. He was cited for reckless operation.

The trees were located on property owned by Harold Knisley of 1426 Ohio 38-NE.

An eight-year-old Fayette County boy is listed in "fair" condition in Children's Hospital in Columbus after he was struck by a trailer Saturday night.

Rodney D. Snyder, 15507 Ohio 729, suffered a deep head laceration when he stepped between a van pulling a trailer at 7:50 p.m. at his home.

The Fayette County Sheriff's Department reported that young Snyder stepped between the two vehicles just when the driver Ronald E.

Jenkins, 29, of 15507 Ohio 729, pulled the van forward.

Snyder was taken to Fayette County Memorial Hospital by the Fayette County Life Squad following the mishap and was later transferred to the Columbus hospital.

Seven other traffic mishaps were investigated by area law enforcement agencies over the weekend.

REAL ESTATE AGENTS

George Washington's agent went abroad to persuade Irish and English families to cross the ocean and relocate on his land. Other agents of that era acted merely as managers. Most real estate transactions were conducted simply, neighbor-to-neighbor. The real estate agent we know wasn't needed. Today, of course, real estate is a large, complex industry calling for skills and techniques to meet a variety of needs.

REALTORS® are real estate professionals with the specialized education and training that are required. A majority concentrate on homes. ## At meetings this week

City, county boards to discuss contracts

Both the Fayette County and the Washington C.H. boards of education will meet this week to discuss renewing contracts for the next school year.

The city board of education will meet tonight to consider the hiring of certified personnel and resignations. The board held its annual evaluation of personnel at an executive session two weeks ago.

Also on the city board's agenda is the hiring of a Middle School track coach. John Taylor, a teacher at the Middle School, has been recommended for the position.

The county board of education will consider the hiring of both certified and non-certified personnel at its meeting Tuesday night. Resignations will also be studied.

Also on the county board's agenda is a review of a zoning request made by George Campbell, owner of three parcels of land at the intersection of Ohio 41-N and Bloomingburg-New Holland Road. Campbell has requested that the .75 acres of land across from Miami Trace High School be rezoned from residential to business.

Mondale's job better of pair?

DETROIT (AP) — Vice President Walter Mondale says he's got a better job than President Carter.

"Just think about it. On Inauguration Day, I rode all the way ... the President had to walk," Mondale said in a tongue-in-cheek speech at the Michigan Democratic party's annual Jefferson-Jackson Day dinner.

"And you notice when I get off a plane, I'm not carrying any luggage. I've got a man to do that. The President has to carry his own," the Vice President said.

"And look where we travel — I go to Paris, Rome, London. He goes to Pittsburgh, Springfield and Charleston, W.Va."

"When I went to London, I stayed with the queen at Buckingham Palace. He went to Clinton, Mass., and stayed with beer distributors."

False alarm reported

The Washington C.H. Fire Department was called to Fayette County Memorial Hospital early day, but the incident proved to be a false alarm.

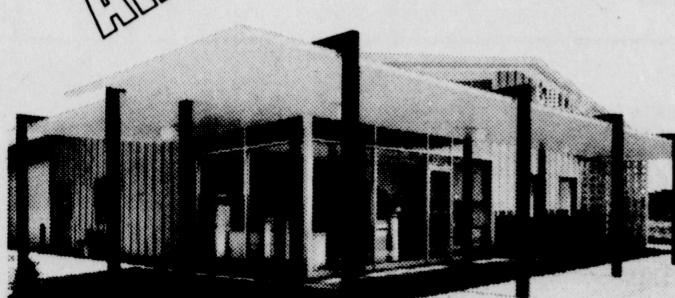

The fire department reported that "a drunk person pulled the alarm box." The incident occurred at 1:50 a.m. Saturday.

Jackson County, settled by Welsh families in 1818, experienced its first boom in 1830 when a Welsh minister, digging a water well in his dooryard in Jackson, struck a rich coal vein. —AP

Want homeowners to switch from gas

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — A Wright State University economist is suggesting that Ohio homeowners, not industrialists, switch from natural gas to alternate fuels because plants in this state are so dependent on gas.

A study conducted by WSU's John A. Whippen shows Ohio industry is unable to substitute oil for gas as readily as industry in some other states to meet energy demands.

"Since the state is so dependent on gas industrially, it is absolutely necessary for households to switch to alternative fuels to free up available gas supplies," Whippen said.

Whippen's study, funded by the Ohio Real Estate Commission, was published in Ohio State University's Bulletin of Business Research.

"Nationally, oil and gas are substitute industrial energy sources," said Whippen. "Therefore, nationally industrial demand for energy can be met by oil if gas cutbacks occur or vice versa."

But in the Buckeye State, both fuels are necessary for production. Loss of one energy source means that increased availability of the other may not alleviate a fuel supply problem.

Although some Ohio firms have switched or plan to switch from gas to other fuels, the WSU study shows a sizable portion of the state's industry cannot substitute an alternate fuel.

Natural gas represents 42 per cent of all the fuel used in industry in the state and 58 per cent of all fuel used commercially and residentially, according to Whippen.

And of all natural gas presently consumed in the state, Whippen said 74 per cent goes to residential customers while 26 per cent goes to industry.

If Ohio is to remain a viable competitor for industrial growth and development, concludes Whippen, further investigation must be made into potential energy substitution strategies.

Bloomingburg PTO holds expanded awards banquet

BLOOMINGBURG — An awards banquet was held recently at Bloomingburg Elementary School. The annual affair sponsored by the PTO to honor all biddy and junior high cheerleaders and basketball players was expanded this year to include the winners of the spelling bee and science fair.

Gary Browning opened the program by delivering the invocation. A buffet style dinner was then served.

James L. Oughterson, principal of Bloomingburg Elementary School, introduced the invited guests. All coaches, advisors and teachers involved in the events were invited along with their spouses. Also invited were Mr. and Mrs. Guy Foster, Mr. and Mrs. Steven Yambor, Mr. and Mrs. Reynold Slaughter and the Fayette County Board of Education Members and their wives.

The first speaker was Charles Andrews, Miami Trace assistant basketball coach. Andrews congratulated those being honored and stressed that a winner must have self confidence. He told the students that they alone make the final decision whether they should use their heads and try to be a winner or sit back and watch the others pass by.

Mrs. Lois Duff, English teacher, presented spelling bee trophies to Lori Wilson, Sandy Lewis, Jan Mossbarger and Joanie McCoy.

Miss Jacalyn Walker, science teacher, presented trophies to students receiving a superior rating in the recent science fair. They were Jim Chakeres, Doug Johnson, Joanie McCoy, Ben Iden, Cam Dean and Don Melvin.

Andrews introduced Stephen (Muff) Jones who was the guest speaker. Jones is a 1973 graduate of Miami Trace High School and was the 1976-1977 co-captain of the Otterbein College basketball team. Jones, a Bloomingburg native, is known for his outstanding leadership and character.

on the basketball court. According to Jones, basketball can have a few bad moments as well as good but he encouraged the students to try again when something goes wrong.

Sportsmanship is an important aspect of the game, according to Jones. Being the youngest child in a family of seven children Jones expressed the importance for a youngster to seek guidance from their elders. The closing message Jones conveyed to the students was, above all they should, "Be your own self."

Mrs. Patti Jenkins, cheerleader advisor, presented trophies to the biddy and junior high girls. Biddy cheerleaders are Cynthia Cunningham, Sandy Lewis, Joanie McCoy, Rhonda Noel, Carmen West, Melissa Wheeler. Gifts were then presented to Mrs. Jenkins and assistants, Teresa Moore and Mrs. Portia Cunningham. Junior high cheerleaders are Elizabeth Cunningham, Pam Huff, Tammie Kirk, Gina McCoy, Jan Mossbarger and Tricia Robinson.

Reginald Groves, biddy basketball coach, introduced his players, John Bloomer, Todd Cook, Kenny Eddlemon, Jimmy Engle, Rodney McCarty, Billy McCown, Danny Tackett, Bobby Tice, Edie Self and Gig Ritenour. Each player received a trophy while Groves was given a trophy from the players and a gift from the cheerleaders.

Jeff Parker, junior high coach, presented his players with trophies. They were Rick Armentrout, Ross Baughn, Brent Brown, Tom Clemens, Cam Dean, Don Eddlemon, Mark Ford, Jeff Jones, Brian Lerrick, Steve Mace, Don Melvin, Bruce Moore, Joe Resisinger, Bruce Richardson and Gary Woodrow. Parker and his assistant Rodger Smith received gifts from the players. The junior high cheerleaders also presented gifts to Parker, Oughterson and Mrs. Jenkins.

CELEBRATION — The J.C. Penney Co. recently celebrated its 75th anniversary. Employees and retired employees of the local J.C. Penney store observed the occasion by serving cake and punch. Pictured are Dena Haines, who was employed by Penney's for 24 years and is affectionately known as "Grandma"; Edna Walston, who has been working at Penney's for 16 years; Maggie Waldron, who has been employed at Penney's for 32 years, and Gil Crouse, a former manager of Penney's, who was employed by the company for 41 years. Barbara Haines, another long term employee, was not present for the picture.

Teachers face threat

CINCINNATI (AP) — Striking Cincinnati public school teachers faced the threat of having medical insurance cancelled today if they failed to return to classrooms, ending their four-day walkout.

Kent St. cuts VP contracts

KENT, Ohio (AP) — Kent State University trustees, who are looking for a new president, have voted to offer only shortterm contracts to four key administrators.

Trustee David Dix suggested the month-to-month renewals for the four vice presidents on the grounds that the new president will want to name his own staff.

The short-term contracts will be offered to Dr. Fay Biles, vice president-public affairs and development; Walter Bruska, administration; Richard Dunn, finance, and Dr. John Snyder, provost.

Contracts for the four expire June 30.

A committee of trustees has been taking applications preparatory to screening candidates for the job being vacated by Dr. Glenn Olds, who has resigned as president effective Sept. 1.

The city-wide strike affects some 65,000 students, with more than half of the 3,100 teachers honoring the picket lines. The first full-scale negotiating since the walkout started last Wednesday was scheduled for today, aided by a federal mediator.

The war of words continued over the weekend, with the president of the AFL-CIO-aligned teachers union accusing the school board Sunday of scare tactics designed to "bust the union."

Roger Stephens, president of the 1,300-member Cincinnati Federation of Teachers (CFT), was cheered Sunday by more than 1,000 strike supporters during a rally on Fountain Square.

At state Hi-Y program

Local student elected to chief justice post

John Walker, a senior at Washington Senior High School, was elected to the prestigious position of chief justice of the Ohio Model Supreme Court during the Ohio Hi-Y youth-in-government program in Columbus last weekend.

Walker, the son of Mr. and Mrs. George H. Walker, 534 Damon Drive, became the sixth student from the Washington Senior High School Hi-Y Club to hold the chief justice post.

Tim O'Flynn, a 1976 graduate of Washington Senior High School, held the position a year ago. Six of the last Ohio Model Supreme chief justices have been from the Washington Senior High School Hi-Y Club.

Walker defeated Jim Kalkoffen, of Akron, and Jeffrey E. Moore, of Sandusky, for the chief justice post.

In serving as chief justice, Walker presided over model Supreme Court cases and addressed the closing session of the program which attracted more than 400 delegates from Hi-Y clubs throughout the state.

Mock cases presented by Hi-Y Club attorneys last month were appealed to the model court held in Columbus.

Walker won a 7-0 reversal of the lower court decision in a reverse discrimination case filed against a mythical medical college. The suit protested the college's minority admissions policy.

Washington Senior High School athletes also won a 7-0 decision for a retrial in the case of an industrial nuisance complaint filed by a neighborhood group against a mythical metal grinding firm.

The legislative session of the Hi-Y youth-in-government program was the most successful ever for Washington Senior High School.

Of 13 legislative measures signed by the student governor, three were sponsored by the eight Washington Senior High School students participating.

Investors feel no need for rebate

By JOHN CUNNIF

AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — There are many interpretations of why President Carter abandoned his tax rebate plan, but the one that seems to make the most sense to the investment community here is that it wasn't needed.

For reasons that economists will be arguing over for the next year, the economy that was sluggish in December and frozen in January, erupted in late February and March as if it had been given a hotfoot.

Any more heat, the money men said, would fire the furnaces of inflation, exploding into an unsustainable economic boom that again would leave us with the ashes of a recession, mere months after we had wiped away the dust of an earlier one.

The fear among some bankers, bondmen, stock analysts, portfolio managers and businessmen sometimes seemed to border on hysteria. They were convinced President Carter's policies would worsen inflation, and that he would then fall back on controls to restrain what he had done.

When Carter conceded at a news conference that the $50 rebate formula was meant more for an economy dawdling around looking for a direction in which to go, rather than for an economy already headed forward, investors seemed to be elated.

DP&L sees adequate electricity

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — Dayton Power & Light Co., recently on the hotseat before a Senate investigating committee for allegedly spending too much for electricity generation and not enough on gas distribution, says the effort will pay off this summer when plenty of air conditioning power will be available.

"We should have adequate generating capacity," said DP&L spokesman Donald L. Speyer.

DP&L provides electricity to about 400,000 customers in 24 southwestern Ohio counties.

Speyer says his company will be able to generate 2,500 megawatts of electricity which is 27 per cent more than his estimate of the peak electrical demand expected this summer.

During January's bitter cold spell DP&L experienced some brownouts. Generating capacity was cut almost in half by a combination of factors, including the shutdown of some generating units, frozen coal, and striking utility workers.

Now, Speyer says, generating facilities are "in pretty good shape." Some units are taken off the line occasionally for routine maintenance, but they are back in use more quickly because manpower has improved with the settlement of the strike earlier this month.

Speyer said coal supplies reduced last winter when ice blocked barges on the Ohio River are now back to normal. "We're building the reserve pile," he said.

During the hot summer weather, Speyer said, DP&L probably will sell electrical power to other utilities, as it has in previous years.

But Speyer warns that despite the optimistic outlook, the company continues to urge energy conservation. "We can't afford to waste any energy," he says.

A small turnout produced a 75 per cent margin in favor of the new contract, which was thought to give considerable concessions on the issue of worker production output standards.

Following a tentative agreement Friday night between the UAW leadership and GM, workers had returned to the job for the third shift after walking out Monday. Acceptance of the callback was termed unusual before a contract vote but was said to signal that the automaker had given in to union demands.

Company representatives said the strike was threatening GM operations nationwide. The Dayton complex manufactures brakes and transmission parts as well as other components vital to GM production.

GM and the UAW signed a new three-year contract nationally last fall, but the two sides also had to negotiate 143 separate local agreements on non-economic issues like the one at Dayton. The Delco-Moraine settlement leaves about 12 local contracts unsigned around the country.

Pomeroy's boom time in Meigs County began in the early 1800s when Nicholas Longworth, a wealthy pioneer of Cincinnati, opened a coal mine. The town was named for a settler, Samuel Pomeroy of Massachusetts.—AP

Miami Trace takes second in Circleville Relays

By MARK REA

Record-Herald Sports Editor

CIRCLEVILLE, Ohio — Miami Trace took a second place team trophy home Saturday as they were the number two team in the Circleville Relays.

Circleville, hosts for the annual event, took first prize with 112 points followed by the Panthers with 82.

While Miami Trace was having an enjoyable day, Fayette County counterpart Washington C.H. was probably wishing they hadn't showed up. Through the 15 events, the Blue Lions failed to place in any and went home in 13th place without any points.

Several meet records were broken Saturday. Circleville's two-mile relay team shaved nearly 10 seconds off the old mark by covering the distance in 8:17.7, eclipsing the old record of 8:27.5.

Wilmington broke a pair of records on the strength of Gary Williams. Williams anchored the mile relay team that broke the old record by more than a second.

And, the Hurricane junior was in on the distance medley that cut five and one-half seconds off the old meet mark.

The mile team turned in a time of 3:31.4, beating the old record of 3:32.5 while the distance team ran a time of 8:10.4, compared to the old record of 8:15.9. The distance medley consists of an 880-yard run, a 220, a 440, and finishes up with a mile run.

The other record was broken in the shot put by Unioto on the basis of throws by Bob Matson. The Shermans had a combined throw of 103 feet, nine inches beating the old record of 97-9 $\frac{1}{2}$  by almost six feet.

Miami Trace took team wins in the shuttle hurdle relay and the long and high jumps.

The hurdle team of David Creamer, Mark Smithson, Tony Walters, and Dean Ferris blazed the track in 63.2 seconds.

The shuttle hurdles consist of four legs of 120-yard low hurdles.

Dan Gifford and Gary Conn each leaped over 19 feet to easily take the long jump event. Gifford jumped 19-5 $\frac{1}{2}$  while Conn was right behind with a leap of 19-2 $\frac{1}{4}$ .

Gifford came back to team with Art Schlichter in the high jump to take that event. Gifford had a jump of 6-2 while Schlichter cleared the bar at 5-10.

Miami Trace placed in the following events: third in the sprint medley; second in the two-mile relay; sixth in the 880-yard relay; fourth in the distance medley; sixth in the 440-yard relay; first in the shuttle hurdle relay; second in the mile relay; second in the shot put; fifth in the discus; first in the long jump; first in the high jump; third in the pole vault; and second in the triple jump.

Trace coach Bill Beatty singled out several members of the team for their efforts Saturday. He had praise for Gifford because he "had a super day with two firsts and two personal bests."

He also praised Brian Zufarce, who was in on four events and ran some impressive splits in relays.

Beatty lauded Glen Cobb, Bill Warmock, Bill Hanners, and Scott Halterman for their efforts. He also praised the members of the shuttle hurdle team for their win.

Other area schools competing Saturday were Unioto, Wilmington, Greenfield McClain, Frankfort Adena, Waverly, and Hillsboro.

Win opener 5-2, drop nightcap 11-0*Blue Lions split twin-bill

CHILLICOTHE, Ohio — Washington C.H. split a doubleheader with Unioto Saturday as they ran their season record to 6-1.

The Blue Lions scored one run in the fourth inning and four in the sixth to take a 5-2 win in the opener and then took it on the chin 11-0 in the nightcap.

Court House survived on the pitching of Mark Heiny in the first game. Heiny went six innings and gave up two runs on just five hits while striking out one and walking four.

De Hart Foster mopped up in the seventh to record the save. Foster allowed Unioto nothing and struck out one.

John Rinehart absorbed the loss for the Shermans. He went the distance, giving up five runs on only four hits. He also struck out four and walked the same number.

The Blue Lions staked Unioto to a 2-0 lead after three innings before scoring.

Jeff Estep and Scott Johnson each walked and then a pair of sacrifice flies from Jeff DeWeese and Jeff Elliott got the Lions the run.

Things were quiet until the top of the sixth when Washington erupted for four runs to take the win. Mark Burke singled to start things off. He stole second base and ended up on third when the catcher's throw wound up in center field.

Scott Johnson walked to put men at the corners and then Burke scored on a double steal that sent Johnson to second.

DeWeese singled Johnson to the plate

Late rallies spell double Panther win

Miami Trace took a doubleheader away from East Clinton Saturday, each time coming from behind in the late innings to secure the win.

In the first game, a pitching battle erupted between Sam Grooms of Miami Trace and Mark Groves of East Clinton. Two runs in the bottom of the sixth inning gave Grooms the 2-1 win.

In the nightcap, Trace was down 5-4 when they pulled their sixth inning heroics again, scoring twice to pull out a 6-5 win.

Groves gave up only one run on six hits in the opener while striking out six and walking just one. He went the distance for the win.

Grooms also pitched a complete game in his losing effort. He allowed just three hits and struck out nine and walked only one.

East Clinton took the lead in the fourth after two were out on a double and a single.

The Panthers waited until the last moment and scored two runs with one out. Rex Coe walked and then came all the way home when the Astro center fielder booted Joe Black's single. Black ended up on third and Grooms squeezed him home for the winning score.

In the second game, the Astros led off with a 1-0 lead after the first inning but Trace came back with a run of their own. It was Coe again as he walked, stole second, and scored on another Black single.

East Clinton was ahead 3-1 before Miami Trace tied it again in the fourth with a pair of runs. Black tripled to lead off the inning and Neil Spears singled him across. Then, Spears stole second, took third on a fly ball and scored on a passed ball.

Trace tied it again in the fifth after the Astros got another run to lead 4-3. Shane Riley doubled and Coe singled him home to tie it at 4-4.

The Astros got another run in the sixth to make the score 5-4 but the Panthers scored their winning runs in the bottom half of the inning.

After two were out, Mark Tubbs singled, Ron Zimmerman walked, both moved up on a passed ball, and Keith Downing delivered the game-winning double to score both.

Dennis Combs was the winning pitcher, giving up five runs on seven hits. He struck out five and walked seven.

Mike Boggs was the losing pitcher for the Astros. He yielded six runs on eight hits, striking out five and walking two.

The Panthers will be in action again tonight at Circleville beginning at 4:30 p.m.

Weekend burglary reports checked

The Washington C.H. Police Department is investigating three burglary reports which occurred over the weekend.

Frank L. Terrell, 509 S. Fayette St., told police officers that someone entered his house Saturday evening and stole a tape player from an upstairs bedroom. The tape player was valued at $150.

John Andrews, owner of Andrew's Union 76 service station, 1204 Columbus

Ave., reported that someone entered a window of the service station late Saturday or early Sunday and stole a set of keys.

John W. Burr, 48, Greenfield, told police officers that someone broke his car window and stole a citizen's band radio valued at $165. The theft occurred between 7:30 and 9 p.m. Sunday while the car was parked on the Gregg Street Church of Christ in Christian Union parking lot.

Police officers are also investigating a vandalism report which occurred late Saturday or early Sunday. Juanita Bennett, 72, Broadway St., told police officers that someone slashed a tire, valued at $50, while her car was parked in front of her residence.

Two injury reports were investigated by area law enforcement agencies over the weekend.

The Washington C.H. Police Department reported that nine-year-old Shawn Johns, 112 W. Paint St., was climbing on the fire escape at the Cherry Hill Elementary School when he fell into a basement stairwell.

He was taken to Fayette Memorial Hospital by the Fayette County Life Squad and was treated for a fractured arm.

The Fayette County Sheriff's Department reported a dog-bite incident Saturday evening. Kathleen S. Watters, 27, Xenia, received a deep bite wound on the leg. She was reportedly walking in a field with the dog's owner, Robert Scheider, 2132 U.S. 62-S, when the incident occurred.

Ohio Perspective

Discharged vets could rate bonuses

By JOE McKNIGHT

Associated Press Writer

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — An estimated 8,500 Vietnam era military veterans with undesirable discharges could qualify for Ohio bonuses if their discharges are upgraded under President Carter's recent program.

Veterans who received an undesirable discharge for desertion in a combat zone can forget it. The President's order forbids any consideration of such a discharge, an Ohio veterans spokesman noted.

Ohio's Vietnam Era Veterans Bonus Commission has paid out $132 million, still has $64 million in the till.

The program set up in 1974 ago pays bonuses of up to $500—or educational tuition up to $1,000—to military veterans who received an honorable or general discharge between Aug. 1, 1964 and July 31, 1973.

The average payment has been $380. The President's program allows veterans who received undesirable discharges to apply to their branch of service to upgrade the discharge. Cases are to be determined individually on merits.

Randall W. Sweeney, director of the Ohio bonus commission, estimated there are 8,500 Ohioans with undesirable discharges. He said persons who received bad conduct or dishonorable discharges are not eligible for a higher grade discharge.

Sweeney said the constitutionally established bonus commission had authority to issue up to $300 million in bonds to be used in bonus payments. It sold $185 million worth of bonds. This was added to $11 million left from a Korean veterans bonus program, making $196 million available.

The commission has paid $132 million on 382,000 claims since June 7, 1974.

If all 8,500 Vietnam veterans collected average payments, they would total more than $3.25 million.

Sweeney noted that next-of-kin of deceased veterans could also become eligible for payments if their kin's discharges are upgraded. He had no estimate of the number that might involve.

The President's program gives interested veterans six months from April 5 until Oct. 5 to make application for higher grade discharges.

Ohio's Vietnam bonus commission will accept bonus applications through Dec. 31 this year. For veterans who choose the education option, it will pay tuition through Dec. 31, 1982.

Sweeney said a Vietnam veteran with a higher discharge application pending can apply for an Ohio bonus. If the bonus is disallowed and the veteran still doesn't know the status of his discharge, he can appeal the bonus disallowance. Sweeney said that can buy him 90 days or more beyond the bonus deadline, hopefully enough time to learn the status of his discharge.

Ohio's Vietnam bonus allows payment of $10 per month for each month a veteran served in any of the 50 states; $15 per month for each month in foreign service other than a combat zone, or $20 per month for combat zone service.

State school chief eyes money woes

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Franklin B. Walter, the new state superintendent of public instruction, continues to worry about money and says he is not expecting much help for education from the state legislature as it takes up Gov. James A. Rhodes' proposed budget.

He predicted that once the legislature has its turn at the document, the new budget will "reflect some increases, but not at the level required to solve some of the problems."
